Mystery Farm Contest Underway This Week

Readers of the Hamlin Herald will have the chance to prove their knowledge of farms in this area with the publication of a new "Mystery Farm" feature starting this week.

Aerial photos were taken of 52 farms in the area served by this newspaper and one picture will be published each week, along with an invitation to readers to "guess whose farm". The pictures were taken by the Zekan-Robbins Company of Harlan, Iowa, specialists in this kind of low-altitude farm photography, and this newspaper arranged to have the photos snapped in different parts of the area so that every farmer has an equal chance of having his farm picture published.

Nobody knows whose farms were photographed not even the photographers. The editor of the Herald is relying upon the readers for identification, and those recognizing the "mystery farm of the week" should notify this newspaper immediately.

In order to make the contest more fun, the names of those guessing the farm correctly, will be published each week. The first one identifying the

City Council Approves $2 a Foot Paving Plan

Farmers to Vote Today on Marketing Quotas for '61

Mr. R. G. Rowell, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds eligible wheat growers to vote in the referendum on July 21st. Polling places have been set up and ballots may be cast from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the following places: Hamlin Coop Gin office; Stamford Gin office; Felts Service Station at Lueders, Nugent Schoolhouse, Hodges Coop Gin office, Noodle Coop Gin office and the ASC office in Anson.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1961 crop of wheat will be those who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1961 (except growers taking part in the feed wheat program).

Mr. Rowell points out that at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum must approve the quotas if they are to become effective. Under quotas, marketing penalties will apply on "excess" wheat resulting from non-compliance with the farm's wheat acreage allotment, and price support will be available to operators on the crop at not less than 75 per cent of parity. The national average support price for the 1960-crop of wheat is $1.78 per bushel. If more than one-third of the voters oppose the quotas, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketing, but allotments will remain in effect as a condition for price support at 50 percent of parity, as directed by law. Wheat growers voting in a referendum each year have approved marketing quotas for the past seven wheat crops.

Price Based on Twenty Blocks

In a report to the Hamlin City Council Tuesday night W. W. "Doc" Greif, consulting highway engineer of Snyder, told the council that the city would be able to obtain paving at a price of $2.00 per property line foot if as many as 20 blocks are signed up.

The council granted permission for the Board of Community Development and the Hamlin Jaycees to go ahead with their plans to sign up as many blocks of paving as possible at this price. For the property owners who will need curb and gutter along with the paving, the price was set at $1.35 per property line foot. This price is based on the current prices being paid for curb and gutter, according to Greif.

The type of paving to be specified in the bids to be prepared by the engineer if enough paving is signed up for the project will be a one course surface treatment with a cement stabilization base.

Greif stated that this type was superior to the type that has been used here in recent jobs and yet is still in line in price.

In the cement stabilization method the present roadbed is used with some additional fill, both are pulverized and mixed with cement. This serves as the base and is covered with a layer of asphalt.

Greif reported this method would be very favorable for Hamlin because of the poor drainage in that the city has a slow run-off and this base is not affected by freezing and thawing as is the regular asphalt method.

Although no bids have been received on the work the engineer said that it is based on the current work being done by contractors.

The council obtained the services of Greif after it had received bids May 31 on paving specifications that ran over $4.50 per property line foot for curb and gutter.

In the May session of the council a four-year budget paving program was approved and the council has been trying since that time to find a method of paving that would hold the cost in line to permit as many people as possible to take advantage of it.

The time-payment plan will allow those who want to pay on small monthly terms, to pay for their paving along with their water bill.

The Hamlin Jaycees have agreed to supply the manpower needed to sign up the blocks for paving.

A representative of the Portland Cement Company and D. Greif will present the paving program to the Jaycees at their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Mid West Cooperative Oil Mill guest house. The purpose of the meeting will be to inform the Jaycees who will take part in the program on the answers to any questions the property owners might have concerning the project.

Jaycees to Play Ericksdahl Here Friday Night

The Hamlin Jaycees softball team will meet Ericksdahl here Friday night in a contest between the two top teams in the Jaycee League.

Hamlin defeated the Anson Gophers 22-3 here Tuesday night.

League standing shows Ericksdahl in top spot with 5 wins, no losses. Hamlin is next with 4-1; Stamford, 2-2; Anson Firefighters, 2-2; Munday, 1-4; and Anson Gophers, 0-7.

Other action taken by the council Tuesday night included the Hamlin Jaycees permission to hold a carnival within the city limits with the understanding that the Jaycees will run the carnival with the exception of the rides and that they be under the supervision of the local organization.

Joe Ford represented the Jaycees at the session and told the council that the club, if granted permission will try to bring the carnival here in the fall.

The council also approved the installation of a radio antenna on the city water tower by A. E. Killion. Killion is to assume all responsibility for any damage done because of the tower.

MAIZE READY TO HARVEST IN 2-3 WEEKS

The early maize crop is expected to be ready to harvest in the next two to three weeks according to local estimates. The crop is expected to yield up to a ton and will probably average around 1500 lbs.

Before the heavy rains two weeks ago the crop was suffering from the extreme heat and lack of moisture, but now the prospects for a good crop are very favorable.

Not much early grain has been planted this year as was last year. Many farmers used their land to plant their cotton in skip rows.

The area cotton crop is reported to be in very good condition after the rains.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION
Austin, Texas

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Things are rather quiet around the State Capitol these days.

For one thing, it's the "off season," the hiatus that regularly occurs between state elections and the convening of a new Legislature.

For another, it's vacation time with a part of almost every agency staff off to forget it all for a time.

But mostly, for this week, the Austin lull stems from most people's suspensful interest in the activity of Texans in Los Angeles. Gov. Price Daniel, vice chairman of the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention, and numerous others have been away for several weeks working in behalf of Sen. Lyndon Johnson's nomination for the presidency.

Despite these distractions, state government goes on. Studies are under way on many subjects, on budgets, tax plans and other future legislation. It's important work, but quiet, during this digging and analyzing stage. It'll break into the news next fall as reports are made and trial balloons are run up on bills to be introduced in January.

Surest indication that state government is still on the job is that even now it's hard to find a parking place near the capitol or the adjoining state office buildings.

During the summer a dozen or so parking slots by the Capitol's east entrance are set aside for tourists. As a rule, tourists don't keep them filled, and Capitol guards are regularly beset by the persuasiveness of local people who need a place for "just a minute."

NO TURNING BACK—Child adoption procedures, under Texas law, are about as final as a thing can be—more so than marriage or divorce.

Texas Supreme Court underlined this in a recent decision that denied the right to change her mind to a mother who had given written permission for her children to be adopted.

In the case at issue, the mother, a widow, gave written permission for her two children to be adopted. Two months later, having remarried, she sought to regain the children.

Lower courts held in favor of the natural mother, but the Supreme Court ruled that only fraud could be a basis for revoking of adoption consent.

Said the court opinion of the adoption laws: "The Legislature had the safety, education, care and protection of the children uppermost in mind and not primarily the contentment or welfare of either the natural or adoptive parents."

NO MISUNDERSTANDING—In another ruling involving adoption, the Supreme Court held that an adopted child could not inherit a trust set up for a direct descendant.

As a result, a four-year-old boy lost the chance to claim $830,000.

In the case originating in Dallas, lower courts had upheld the child's claim to money from his late grandfather's estate.

In his will, the grandfather instructed that $830,000 trust be set up if "any child of my son is born after my death." High court ruled that this made it highly unlikely that the maker of the will intended the money to go to a child born to persons other than his son and daughter-in-law.

ROAD CLOSED—If Texas' truck licensing law had a loophole you could drive a truck through, the State Supreme Court has, in effect, halted the traffic.

High court ruled that a motor freight line cannot register and pay license fees on its trucks in Texas and use Mississippi licenses on its trailers. Texas' fee for a truck trailer is $226, compared to $10 in Mississippi.

High court ruled that if the truck line is resident in Texas, it must pay the Texas fee for the trailers, even if it pays in Mississippi, too. Result: $20,000 more taxes owed by the line in license fees to the State Highway Department.

OIL ON THE HIGHWAYS?—On the heels of a U. S. Supreme Court that Texas owns its tidelands 10 1/4 miles out comes a ruling that the state also owns the right-of-way along public roads.

Attorney Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the state, not the county, owns the road right-of-way and that the counties cannot lease the land for mineral development.

Whether the state should exercise its right and lease right-of-way lands for oil and gas exploration probably will not be decided until the Legislature sets a policy. Involved is some 1,200,000 acres of land on 228,000 miles of public roads.

READING, RITING AND DRIVING—State Board of Education took a jaundiced view of a proposal of state-supported driver education in public schools. Plea for driver education, one of the main planks in Gov. Daniel's program for increased traffic safety, was presented by Brad Smith, director of the governor's Highway Safety Commission.

"Driver education in the schools is the only way to reduce the flow of uneducated drivers into the stream of traffic," Smith declared. A statewide driver training program has been the goal of huge Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for some years.

Board members said they felt the matter did not properly belong in a school curriculum. They declined to make a recommendation to the Legislature.

LEGAL TEST PROBABLE—Board of Education decided to consider again in September the dilemma of school districts which stand to lose their state aid money under terms of a 1957 law governing school integration.

Under this law, districts which integrate without approval in a local election automatically lose state aid.

Dallas and Houston schools are under fed, court orders to integrate this fall. Houston voters turned down integration. Dallas' election is set for Aug. 6.

State Commissioner J. W. Edgar said he had written Houston and Dallas school authorities telling them their state aid would have to be cut off if they integrated without a voter mandate.

Board discussed seeking an attorney general's opinion on the problem, probably in September after the Dallas election.

New Princess Phone comes to town

I'd like to tell you about a brand-new telephone. It's called the Princess phone, and it is being introduced to the public for the very first time this month in towns we serve throughout the state.

How do you like the new look? Notice the oval base and smart styling. You might say the Princess looks regal.

I feel sure a number of you will want one or more of these lovely little phones. I'd like to tell you about the Princess' main features, because it's not very often I get a chance to write about something as exciting as this new phone.

First, it's little. Only 8½ inches long and 3½ inches high and wide, the Princess phone takes so little space on a living room table, a kitchen counter or bedside table.

Next, the Princess is lovely, in styling and in colors. It comes in the most lighthearted pastels I've seen in a long time—blue, beige, pink and turquoise—plus white.

Finally, the Princess phone lights up. The dial glows softly at night, lights up brightly when you lift the receiver.

Why not be among the first here to order a new Princess phone? Just call us at the telephone business office or see your telephone serviceman.

Goodwill Farm Tour Postponed Until August 4-14

The Texas Farm Bureau Goodwill Tour to Mexico has been postponed until August 4-14 according to an announcement by J. H. West, president of the state farm organization. The tour was originally scheduled for July 14-24.

"With this postponement, we will be able to take advantage of certain tour extras that are now being arranged in Mexico," West said. "Also, many people who expressed interest in going along on the tour have indicated that they prefer an August date for the trip."

The tour itinerary, which includes visits to places of agricultural interest as well as sight-seeing and stop-overs in fabulous resorts, has not been changed, West added.

The tour is not limited to Farm Bureau members since transportation to and from Mexico City is via regular airline flights instead of a chartered plane. Persons desiring to go along can secure information on how to become a tour member by writing the Texas Farm

MECHANIZATION OF COTTON HARVEST SHOWING INCREASE

Increased mechanization marked the 1959-60 cotton harvest in Texas.

In keeping with the national trend, machine stripping and picking accounted for 44 percent of the Texas upland cotton harvest. A year earlier, it was 35 percent. Hand picking and snapping with 56 percent, still predominated, however.

A survey by the Agricultural Marketing Service, in cooperation with ginners, compressmen and warehousemen, shows that 42 percent of the state's 3,371,000 bales ginned was hand snapped, and 14 percent hand picked, compared to 49 percent and 16 percent respectively, in 1958-59. Machine picking gained from 4 to 10 percent, and machine stripping increased from 1 to 34 percent.

By comparison, the 1959-60 national average was 39 percent hand picked; 18 percent hand snapped; 31 percent machine picked (a new high); and 2 percent machine stripped. A year earlier, U. S. growers harvested 44 percent by hand picking; 22 percent by hand snapping; 21 percent, machine picking; and 13 percent by machine strippers.

Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, with 48, 34, and 5 percent respectively, were the only states that employed machine stripping extensively. South Carolina led with 92 percent hand-picked cotton and California was first in machine picking with 83 percent.

The AMS survey also reveals that Texas growers paid an average of $15.94 for ginning and wrapping each 500-pound gross weight bale. A year earlier it was $15.40. Charges for bagging and ties, alone, averaged $4.34 a bale, 8 cents more than in 1958-59. The national average last season was $15.02, total charges, and $4.29 for bagging and ties only.

Last year, it took 1,435 lbs. of Texas hand-picked seed cotton to make an average 500-pound bale, compared to the Cottonbelt average of 1,406. A bale of hand snapped cotton in Texas required 1,932; machine picked, 1,515; and machine stripped, 2,078.

It is a simple truth that rural electrification has been the most important program inaugurated during the past quarter century for the rural areas of Texas—and America. And as the nation celebrates the joining of the fiftieth state to our Union, the Electric Cooperatives of Texas pay homage to the democratic principles which fostered the birth and growth of rural electrification.

Our rural areas, once deaf to the hum of electric energy and blind to the marvels it produced, are now ablaze with the efficient dependable electric service provided by electric cooperatives.

With pride in the past and confidence in the future, the Electric Cooperatives of Texas truly provide Partnership Power for Progress!

"If National Farm Safety Week doesn't git here soon there ain't gonna be none of us left to celebrate it!"

FARM ACCIDENTS CLAIM MORE LIVES THAN OTHER INDUSTRIES

Farm accidents claim about 3,500 lives each year, more than any other industry. Some 11,000 farm residents die each year in all types of accidents, and another million suffer accidental injuries.

To direct attention to this appalling problem, President Eisenhower has designated the week of July 24-30 as "National Farm Safety Week." In Texas, Governor Daniel has proclaimed the period "Farm Safety Week in Texas." The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, together with the Texas Safety Assoc., Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Farm Bureau, is pushing a farm safety education program during the week.

Theme of the observance is "Enjoy Farm-Practice Safety." Objective of the educational effort is to curb the soaring farm accident problem which hits one farm family in four each year.

and progress of its agricultural population, and accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among rural families.

The rate of accidental deaths from work and recreational activities on farms is increasing slightly each year. The death rates associated with machinery, drownings, firearms and electrical current are increasing while those associated with animals, falls, lightning and burns are showing some decrease.

There are more than four times as many accidental deaths in farming than in manufacturing. Today's farms are becoming more like small industrial plants, and they have some of the same safety needs.

Why there's plenty of electricity wherever you go

You feel like a pioneer as you pitch camp in the pines, and drop your fishing line in some secluded spot. You're roughing it, but not enough to spoil your fun. For today wherever you roam, rural electric lines supply the conveniences of home.

Electrification of remote areas like this was long delayed. Rural people were widely scattered — supposedly too costly to reach with electricity. Then came the Rural Electrification Administration, and rural Americans organized non-profit groups, borrowed money from the REA, and built their own power lines.

These rural electrics have agreed to serve everyone near or far, big or small—at lowest possible cost. At the same time, they've been prevented by law from serving towns of over 1,500, and people already being served. But despite these handicaps, in only 25 years, rural electric systems have built 1.5 million miles of line and today serve 16 million rural Americans.

Best of all, the cost of rural electrification is borne by the people who use it. And already 1,000 rural electrics—mostly cooperatives—have paid over $1 billion in principal and interest on their $3½ billion REA loans—added proof this is one of the best investments our Nation has ever made.

OUTDOOR IN TEXAS

Honest-to-goodness fishermen really like to fish. Every time we see a dyed-in-the-wool angler we are reminded of the two fishermen who were out on the lake bright and early one Sunday morning. One fellow said to the other, "I feel mighty guilty out here fishing on the Sabbath, when I oughta be attending church with the family."

His buddy's comment was, "Well, my wife and I couldn't have gone anyway, 'cause she's at home sick in bed."

Which brings up another thought. Why don't you take that gal along on your next fishing trip? There are no better anglers than women, once they get the hang of things. So, take the little woman with you next time. And I don't mean just for the car ride. Or simply to sit on the bank and watch fish.

I mean take her with you in the boat. Show her a good time. Teach her how to fish. She'll probably outfish you in six months, maybe sooner, but it will make her love the outdoors more. And believe me, you'll get in more fishing trips yourself, because she will want to go often. More important still, it'll make a real pal of her.

But—don't treat her as a servant. Don't ask her to do anything that you wouldn't ask of a male fishing buddy. And don't baby her, either.

To you women, let me say this. Lots of times when the gal goes along she will just stroll along the bank, doing nothing.

That's a mistake, little woman, 'cause if you do, you'll spend most of your time climbing over rocks and through the brush to rescue "daddy's" lure. Or to retrieve his landing net, or to return his paddle.

If you stay by the car, you'll get eaten by mosquitoes, or chased by a bull, or rained on.

Furthermore, if hubby doesn't catch anything, you'll have to listen all the way home to reasons why.

He will tell you the water was too high, too low, too clear or too muddy. Or too cold or too hot, or too rough or too calm.

On the other hand, if papa does catch something you'll have to clean it and freeze it—and later on thaw it & cook it—and you missed the thrill of catching it.

So, gal, you might as well go along and enjoy the whole show, and be a gal while you're at it.

According to statistics there are 750,000 people in Texas who work 50 weeks a year so they can afford to go fishing the other two weeks.

Of this number, exactly 749,998 people arrive at their favorite fishing spots only to find the water too something or other for good fishing. What about the other two persons?

Well, they go out, whether the weather is wet or dry, the day sunshiny or the night moonlit. And they catch fish!

How?

Next time you see a truly successful, old-time fisherman, just ask him how he does it.

Chances are his answer will be short and to the point—"Just fish for 50 years."

And that may be true, for experience certainly helps.

So, if you want to be a suc-

EXTENSION SERVICE GIVES ADVICE ON CONTROLLING ANTS

Ants can be a real household nuisance but applications of the right insecticides will bring them under control in a hurry. Entomologists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say that chlordane or dieldrin, sold in many stores as roach and ant sprays, are very effective against ants.

The entomologists point out that several species of ants can become pests in the home. Some may nest in the house, but most build their nests outside and find their way inside through openings. Once they find a food supply they set up a regular route between the food and their nests.

The most common species found in Tex. are the Pharaoh, thief, black crazy, fire and Argentine ants. They range in size from the tiny Pharaohs to the much larger fire ants. They feed on any kind of food material in the home including sweets and greasy foods. The thief ant prefers greasy foods.

For inside the home applications, the entomologists recommend a two or three percent chlordane or a five-tenths (.5) percent dieldrin household spray. Special attention should be given to drainboards, window sills, door openings and pantry shelves.

For outdoor applications, the entomologists recommend a 10 percent chlordane, 2 percent dieldrin or 5 percent heptachlor dust. If an emulsion spray is used, they strongly urge that label directions be followed. They suggest that a bond of insecticidal dust or spray be

Car Executive Lists Many Advantages Of Compact Cars

Among the many benefits resulting from soaring compact car sales are annual savings of millions of dollars for insurance and gasoline, reduced traffic congestion, and a greater selection for the car buyer, a regional automobile executive said today.

"Whenever you see a compact car on the street you can figure that the driver is getting perhaps 25 percent better economy than with a standard-size car, that his car is taking more than two feet less road space than others and that his insurance rate is about 10 percent less," said T. J. Sloggett, Dallas Zone manager of American Corporation. The zone covers Rambler dealers in most of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

He said that Rambler sales in the Dallas Zone have risen 35.5 per cent over last year to a new record and further increases are expected.

The compact car trend, pioneered by American Motors and accelerated by introduction of competing makes last Fall, already has pushed more than 25% of the total car sales, the official said.

American Motors' studies show that by the end of 1961 more than 50 per cent of all cars sold will be Rambler-size compacts and by the end of 1963 about three out of four automobiles sold will be compact cars, Sloggett said.

Libya in North Africa is about one-fifth the size of the 48 states. Yet it has only about 200 miles of railway.

W. L. WALTON

SERVICES HELD FOR FORMER RESIDENT, 91

Funeral services for Wallace Leeper Walton, 91, pioneer of West Texas and former resident of Hamlin, were held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Rev. Lenard Hartley, pastor, officiated.

Mr. Walton died at 11:20 p.m. Tuesday, July 12, at St. Mary of the Plain's Hospital in Lubbock where he had been a patient for one month. He had been ill since March with lung cancer. He had lived in Lubbock for seven years, moving there from Hamlin. He was engaged in farming and ranching here.

A pioneer of West Texas, Mr. Walton was born at Blue Springs, Mo., January 1, 1869, and moved with his family in a covered wagon to Jones County in 1885. They settled directly north of the Katy Railway in north Hamlin. Hamlin was put on the map in 1906 and in 1907 Mr. Walton became part owner of the telephone line from Sagerton to Sweetwater, by way of Hamlin. Most of the work of building the line was done using wagons and teams. He later sold his interest to Judge Shannon, an early day lawyer in Hamlin. The route of the telephone line remains the same.

He was married to Josie Bell Hodges, Oct. 25, 1891 at Aspermont, Texas. She passed away March 24, 1933.

He was a member of the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Survivors are two sons, Wallace of Hamlin, John E. of Lubbock; three daughters, Mrs. Riley (Annetta Matchett) of Hamlin, Mrs. W. I. (Geraldine) Stahl, Levelland and Willie Belle (Jane) Walter of the home, Lubbock; one brother, J. B. of Kermitt; one sister, Mrs. Colquitt Finley of Georgia, eight grandchildren, including J. E. Walton Jr., whom he had raised from infancy and eight great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Hamlin East Cemetery with Hamlin Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Arlie Casle, Sigmund Stovall, J. C. Turner, Dub Johnson, Charlie Abbott, Paul Matchett, James Lain and Joe Ford.

He took a chance to save a minute—He made his bed and now he's in it!

MUSICAL HIT 'BELLS ARE RINGING' TO OPEN SUNDAY

Resplendently staged and costumed, with a wealth of song and dance numbers, colorful characterizations and moving at a laugh-a-minute pace, Metro Goldwyn Mayer brings to the Hamlin Theatres screen the musical hit of the year, "Bells Are Ringing," starting Sunday.

The film version of the Bet-Comden - Adolph Green - Julie Styne stage hit, which ran on Broadway for more than three years and continued its success on the road, stars Judy Holliday and Dean Martin, with Miss Holliday recreating the role of the humorous and loveable telephone answering service operator which she created in the original musical play.

Filmed in CinemaScope and color against lavish backgrounds, the picture was produced by Arthur Freed and directed by Vincente Minnelli, the team who have given the screen two Academy winners, "Gigi" and "An American in Paris," among many other hits.

Fred Clark, one of Hollywood's top comedians, co-stars in the role of an edgy Broadway producer, with the supporting cast headed by Eddie Foy, Jr., and including such members of the original Broadway cast as Jean Stapleton, Ruth Storey, Dorit Clark, Ralph Roberts and Bernie West.

"Bells Are Ringing" is highlighted by fourteen musical numbers ranging from love songs, topical ditties, humorous ballads, a Bongos and a Cha Cha routine to a honky-tonk chorus girl number. They are sung and danced in solos and ensembles in such varied settings as the answering service office, Times Square, Central Park, skyscraper penthouses, smart restaurants, cafe society parties and glittering night clubs.

The songs include "Bells Are Ringing," "It's Better Than A Dream," "Hello," "It's a Perfect Relationship," "Is It a Crime," "Mu Cha Cha," "Drop That Name," "The Party's Over," "I'm Goin' Back," "Do It Yourself," "Just In Time," "Long Before I Knew You," "It's a Simple Little System" and "The Midas Touch."

They form an integral part of the plot which revolves about Ella Peterson (Judy Holliday), who works for Susansverphone and has a deplorable tendency to get involved in the lives of the customers as she takes and delivers their messages.

Twenty years of growth is the record claimed for the national 4-H clothing award program which today involves nearly three-quarters of a million girls between 10 and 21 years of age. This report comes from the National 4-H Service Committee which developed the program over two decades ago in cooperation with the Extension Service. It has been supported ever since by Coats & Clark Inc., of New York.

Right now across the nation young seamstresses are putting the finishing touches on skirts, dresses and coats. The garments were carefully cut, stitched and sewn under the knowing eye of their local 4-H Club leader.

Many hopeful models also are rehearsing for a fashion show and exhibit of their handiwork in competition with other club members for county, state and national 4-H clothing awards provided by Coats & Clark.

An even dozen college scholarships worth $400 each are awaiting the 12 top 4-H'ers to be selected from 50 state winners next fall. The state champion will be a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago with all expenses paid.

For more information about joining a 4-H Club contact the county Extension agent.
